00:30:07 Pamela Perry: Hi Everyone!
00:31:07 Susan: Can screen with questions be zoomed in? Too small to read.
00:31:46 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: You can Zoom in under view options when they share the slides again.
00:33:07 Susan Hoang: Can you add the link to the padlet in the chat?
00:33:40 Megan Kinney — Library (she/her): bit.ly/CCLReopeningQ_1
00:33:49 Susan Hoang: Thank you!
00:33:58 Megan Kinney — Library (she/her): Oh sorry — read it in the upper left :)
00:33:58 Kellye Cohn: bit.ly/CCLReopeningQ_1
00:35:13 Tina Inzerilla: http://bit.ly/CCLReopeningQ_1
00:36:00 Sarah Bosler (she/her): Ah, everything moves so fast. LOL
00:36:23 Laura Galván—Estrada: Waiting for things to slow down to comment. So get to see all the comments!
00:36:29 Tina Inzerilla: For those just joining, please click this link: http://bit.ly/CCLReopeningQ_1 to add to the padlet
00:36:50 Cathy Tully: It's hard to read them because they keep moving on my screen.
00:37:17 Cathy: Agree with @Cathy — hard to read because they keep moving
00:38:09 Jonathon Lee: By the way, @Alison, this is one of the best uses and explanations of how to use Padlet that I've seen
00:38:18 Will Breitbach: Regarding masks... I would like to learn communication strategies regarding people who don't want to wear masks.
00:39:30 Tom Stough: I concur with Gregg! I'm very concerned about CCCs being seen as dragging our feet.
00:39:34 Steve Hunt: Lack of effective leadership from the Chancellor's Office is a problem
00:39:43 Amy Beadle: Agree with @Jonathon. This is an excellent example of how to use Padlet well!
00:39:49 Treisa Cassens: The UC and CSU systems are requiring vaccines. There has not been that requirement at the CC system … yet?
00:40:00 Marlene: I think students want to have the libraries available.
00:40:19 Lauren Saslow: @Treisa — I don't think they can make that requirement. That's the big difference.
00:40:40 Linda Parker: Treisa — I wonder about that too
00:40:40 Marlene: NO, NO, NO!!! We do it anyway but no administrators should be requesting that work
00:40:41 Jeff Karlsen: In addition to this —— cleaning/sanitizing is health theater
00:40:44 Pamela Perry: Well said Michelle!
00:40:50 Treisa Cassens: we can't at our district, but I wonder if the system Chancellor might make that requirment
00:40:55 Antonio López, SCC: Yes, Los Rios is having some on—campus classes for the fall, but it isn't that many classes. The move is pretty judicious.

00:41:06 Marlene: Ooh Good Will
00:41:26 Amy Brinkley: @Folsom Lake College we are planning to have cleaning stations set up around the library for folks who are interested in having sanitized work areas —— similar to coffee shops, restaurants, etc. —— like Jeff said, this is not how the virus spreads, so it's mainly for patron comfort
00:41:31 Catt Wood: Are we really going to call campus police to enforce mask rules after last summer?
00:41:31 Jeff Karlsen: The recent development at Los Rios is a movement toward on-ground services, including Library
00:41:35 Will Breitbach: we cant call campus police every 10 minutes. :)
00:41:50 Kellye Cohn: Yeah, let's not call the police please
00:41:56 Laura Gamez: ^^^
00:41:59 Lauren Saslow: @Catt — we have the LA Sheriff Department as our campus police. Can you envision it?
00:42:00 Steve Hunt: Equity issues with sending the police to confront students...
00:42:01 Tom Dolen: Nursing and now Auto Tech and Engineering is meeting on campus at De Anza.
00:42:08 Eric Hanson: Calling campus police to monitor masking requirements can be a challenge right now as well. This might bring up several issues.
00:42:13 Alexandra Doyle Bauer — Library: Yes, I want different options that calling the police on anit-maskers!
00:42:21 Jonathon Lee: At our campus they're treating non-mask wearing as non-compliance with campus policy/causing a disturbance but really, is it the student worker at the door who has to filter/weed these people out?
00:42:26 Linda Parker: Yes! Love the engaging features! :D
00:42:30 Norman Buchwald: Anti-maskers
00:43:26 Carina Love (she/her):   Padlet url?
00:43:42 Alison Gurganus: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/CCLReopeningQ7
00:44:04 Marlene: Thanks
00:44:30 Jeff Karlsen: It may be worth considering that the need for masks will depend on the state of viral spread. In other words, focusing on it in a way that creates conflict and disruption may not be worthwhile if we find ourselves in a very positive public health situation.
00:45:15 Ryan Edwards: Do you think that there is an argument that not requiring vaccines may be better (more risky, yes for those who aren't vaccinated), but better for enrollment purposes as enrollment is down with the Pandemic and there wouldn't be any enrollment barriers?
00:45:18 Steve Hunt: @Jeff, agreed
00:46:46 Carina Love (she/her):   CDC is expected to authorize by fall.
00:47:15 Marlene: Challenge to think how masks vs expulsion 00:47:16 Jonathon Lee: @Tom, right, and they're also allowing for exemptions which I bet will be quite easy to claim (religious, for example)

00:47:28 Terri Smith: @ TomOur district also following that plan
00:47:34 Gregg Atkins: Yes, Pfizer is ready to submit official request for full authorization —— next week?
00:47:44 Amy Brinkley: I'm concerned about the emphasis on policing behavior, given that most of us are operating under the assumption that we will only be reopening if the risk continues to be low
00:47:48 Jan Suitt: Face shield if can't wear a mask.
00:48:11 Sara Cassetti (she/her): I think campus PD should come into the picture only if there's an altercation that results from the mask request.
00:48:18 Carina Love (she/her):   Face shields are not effective and are not allowed in our campus policy.
00:48:21 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: @Sara, yes.
00:48:24 Marlene: We at the library need to help student reorient to using 'supplemental' learning resources, so be cautious on how mask wearing with impact clear communiation
00:48:25 Jude Baldwin: We were open for a while in the fall and people would come in with masks but anyone who stayed for a while was apt to take it off
00:48:26 Karen Tercho (she/her): My understanding is a major reason for the CSU and UCs requiring students be vaccinated is because of their residential arrangements
00:48:34 Karen Tercho (she/her): vs. CCCs
00:48:42 Hayley Garcia Ashby: Moderna has already submitted for full FDA authorization (April 18th).
00:48:44 Amy Brinkley: @Karen yes
00:49:05 Alison Gurganus: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/CCLReopeningQ11
00:49:22 Will Breitbach: @Jude... because this is Jefferson
00:49:50 Eve Miller: @karen the CSU and UC's are also requesting all non-essential personnel stay at home to allow those that need to be on campus be able to do their work
00:51:40 Laura Galván-Estrada: Is anyone getting pushback from admin on installing plexiglass?
00:51:57 Melanie Chu (she, her): At LTCC, we have been funneling access to campus thru one entrance where the daily questionnaire (Campus Clear app) and no-touch temp are checked. Masks are required for all. If a student has a medical exemption for wearing a mask, they can choose to take online-only classes or do curbside pickup.
00:52:02 Jonathon Lee: Paging isn't relevant to us since most of our reserve books need to be paged anyway, and the vast majority of our checkouts are reserved. Semester-long loan would not work
00:52:26 Jeff Karlsen: What is the type of scanner Alison mentioned?
00:52:32 Karen Tercho (she/her): @Laura, on the plexiglass, the response from admin has been very slow. We don't know yet how/when that will happen, but we're on the cusp of telling them we won't do in-person service without it.
00:52:35 Jaimie Jordan: Interesting... our reading of copyright was that we're limited to 10%

00:52:43 Jaimie Jordan: 20% would be so much better!
00:52:51 Diana Tedone-Goldstone, Cañada College: Copyright law doesn't have a specific percentage
00:52:55 Marlene: We can concur at Palomar
00:53:05 Jonathon Lee: We've learned that the 10%/20% rule is arbitrary
00:53:05 Dana Young: https://www.kic.com/
00:53:07 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: https://www.kic.com/
00:53:07 Marlene: Scanning and email and downloading
00:53:13 Jeff Karlsen: this is the realm of guidelines, not law
00:53:15 Ken Lin: need 5 or 10 friends
00:53:24 Carrie Consalvi: AND….it's only 10% for ONE semester….
00:53:26 Robert Parmenter (He/Him):   How much are the KIC scanners?
00:53:31 Katie Hamilton: 20% at a time. what about a subsequent request or are they cut off?
00:53:38 Marlene: Our copyright officer did not want that 20% figure— Too high
00:53:40 Tina Gutierrez: 20 % per parton or item
00:53:41 Seth Daugherty: Those are all guidelines…not the law
00:53:43 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): I would disagree with that. These are fair use guidelines for a lot of people but wouldn't necessarily work for consumables and the protection offered to libraries in terms of liability does not protect us if a staff member is involved in the copying
00:53:54 Steve Hunt: Let students scan it themselves, then we can claim plausible deniability
00:54:00 Norman Buchwald: Court cases so far are at 10% or no more than one chapter. And if behind a course wall (Canvas) no more than one section of a course.
00:54:06 Carrie Consalvi: Why we need OER
00:54:15 Amy Beadle: No problem!
00:54:18 Diana Tedone-Goldstone, Cañada College: Yes Carrie!
00:54:26 Kellye Cohn: BibliU helped relieve some of the reserve issues
00:54:28 Jonathon Lee: Yes @Carrie. If faculty haven't learned that by now ...
00:54:34 Jeff Karlsen: @steve not even that — if they are doing it themselves we are no longer responsible at all, codified by statute
00:54:34 Sarah Bosler (she/her): Carrie. I second the OER need… Eps now.
00:54:56 Seth Daugherty: Good call Carrie — OER!
00:54:57 Alison Gurganus: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/ CCLReopeningQ6
00:55:15 Carrie Consalvi: @Jonathon…it's a slow grow. We're at 23% of sections for OER, with a lot of promising leads…but not there yet! Faculty are nervous.
00:55:15 Melanie Chu (she, her): Our stacks are open for student access. The CDC has recently updated their guidelines re: safety cleaning protocols. They have issued revised guidance stating that although it is possible for individuals to become infected through contact with contaminated surfaces or objects (fomites), the risk is low, with an estimation that the chance of contracting the coronavirus through surface transmission is "lower than 1 in 10,000." Therefore, we are focusing on spreading out students and continued mask wearing, rather than surfaces.

00:56:08 Frances Hui: @Melanie, thanks for sharing that, important update for us to know.
00:56:13 Moore, Debra: I need a reminder of how to get to the padlet question
00:56:36 Megan Kinney – Library (she/her): Here: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/CCLReopeningQ6
00:56:39 Jonathon Lee: Yes, definitely a downside of Padlet
00:56:40 Jan Suitt: LOL!
00:57:00 Lauren Saslow: @Melanie – agreed, we need to move with the CDC guidelines and not dig in our heels with our personal concerns.
00:57:31 Jeff Karlsen: @Melanie and @Lauren – well stated!
00:57:41 Carrie Consalvi: I'm curious how many institutions are represented here.
00:59:16 Carina Love (she/her):   @Melanie yes, agreed. We don't need cleaning theater
00:59:18 Seth Daugherty: Which app is being used for screening students?
00:59:19 Melanie Chu (she, her): Thanks @Frances and @Lauren, we've come a long way from wiping down groceries and quarantining materials. While "hygiene theater" might make us feel better, surfaces are not how the virus is spread. We've come
00:59:42 Cathy: I don't know if other colleges have had the same problem, but our CSEA folks are not allowed to conduct screenings at all – per the union. Which means it has to be managers or faculty.
00:59:50 Marlene: Wow– Most people taking temps are not nurses or health workers?
01:00:09 Marlene: We don't have full campus access
01:00:10 Cathy Tully: COS is using the Ready Education app.
01:00:26 Marlene: Self reporting I thought required and initial temp baseline?
01:00:31 Cathy Tully: I believe that is the plan, but as with everything it could change
01:00:59 Lori Lisowski: I don't have a smartphone!
01:01:05 Amy Guy: How does the campus handle folks who are not wearing wristbands?
01:01:18 Melanie Chu (she, her): At LTCC, we have security (student workers, not law enforcement) doing no-touch temp check. For folks who don't have a phone for the Campus Clear app, there's a paper questionnaire.
01:01:29 Marlene: Yes a self-report unit with a built in temp feature. Skilled nursing units have been using them
01:01:33 Jude Baldwin: Our "app" has a web version as well and the in-person screener can also go through the screening questions and submit

01:01:56 Jeanne Maggard: No
01:02:15 Will Breitbach: @Cathy — you are retiring so you are off the hook 01:02:16 Marlene: Very interesting— Which college Cathy?
01:02:22 Tom Stough: Not happening that way at Ventura Cty. CCD.
01:02:23 Carina Love (she/her):   Nope. We had classified on site with no faculty and very limited managers.
01:02:25 Terri Smith: At Taft, classified staff, also CSEA, are taking temp checks.
01:02:33 Marlene: Thanks Cathy
01:03:33 Amy Brinkley: that would be a local decision
01:03:49 Linda Parker: Our athletes are tested every week too
01:03:58 Amy Brinkley: our athletes are screened, but not required to be vaccinated (neither are employees)
01:04:15 Carina Love (she/her):   Athletes tested every week on rotating basis.
01:04:25 Melanie Chu (she, her): LTCC athletes are tested weekly
01:04:34 Antonio López, SCC: didn't see the spinner
01:05:06 Evelyn Lord: I wonder if there will be an effort to require vaccinations, at a minimum, for athletes
01:05:31 Antonio López, SCC: How do folks know how to get to the padlet without the link in the chat?
01:05:44 Alison Gurganus: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/CCLReopeningQ5
01:05:44 Diana Tedone—Goldstone, Cañada College: We've been talking about requiring vaccinations for staff and faculty at my district
01:05:52 Tina Inzerilla: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/CCLReopeningQ5
01:05:53 Diana Tedone—Goldstone, Cañada College: At least for folks who want to be on campus
01:06:19 Antonio López, SCC: thanks
01:07:05 Ron Karln: Emergencies at the library?
01:07:23 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: If anyone is exploring digital lockers, please let me know —unless I've been in contact!
01:07:26 James Carrocino: I have heard pushback from CSEA about requiring vaccinations
01:07:41 Will Breitbach: Can someone share how why lockers help during the pandemic?
01:07:48 Hayley Garcia Ashby: @Diana Tedone—Goldstone, Riverside Community College District has been hosting vaccinations on the campuses and is also considering requiring vaccinations for students and employees.
01:08:13 Will Breitbach: Why lockers?
01:08:16 Amy Brinkley: @Will the idea is no—touch delivery option, with more extensive hours than the library is open (at this point, library is closed)
01:08:24 Cheyenne Hohman: @Will Breitbach — lockers will enable students to pick up books at any time
01:08:30 Kellye Cohn: We ordered lockers as well

01:08:34 Will Breitbach:  oh for book pickup
01:08:38 Will Breitbach:  nice
01:08:40 Kellye Cohn:     Laptops too Will 01:08:51 Tom Stough:      @Michelle: Ventura College has lockers.  You may want to ask them about that.
01:08:51 Will Breitbach:  yes — great
01:08:52 Moore, Debra:    Lockers have worked well at Cerritos
01:08:53 Nicole Tudor:    @Will lockers for us will also hope in a post pandemic world; they can pick—up contactless outside operating hours 01:08:54 Amy Brinkley:    @Will, yes. Also being used for music dept, science, athletics, etc. for other types of materials
01:09:01 Nicole Tudor:    *help not hope
01:09:05 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad:     @Tom, thanks! I'll contact them.
01:09:22 Hayley Garcia Ashby:     Agreed, Michelle. We just requested lockers using similar justification.
01:09:30 Will Breitbach:  love to hear which vendors people like 01:09:48 Sherri Moore:    Our Quadient lockers are installed but not operational yet.
01:09:54 Carina Love (she/her):   Which eye scanner do people have? I see lots of options. What is the price range?
01:10:06 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad:     @Will DTech, Quadient, Bibliotheca (very expensive).
01:10:27 Cathy:  I assume the question applied just to library purchases — the college as a whole is responsible for sanitation & general safety equipment (shields, masks, etc.).
01:11:00 Susan Hoang:     We're in the process of trying to get them.
Probably going with LuxerOne, which is what the CSU's are using.
01:11:03 Marlene: Where did you place the lockers?
01:11:05 Monica Doman:    @Will Luxer One. We will share ours with the campus for distribution of other materials too.
01:11:34 Linda Parker:    Nice — love those ideas!
01:11:34 Jenny Brewer:    Cute idea !
01:11:36 Al Ybarra:       Great idea!
01:12:11 Moore, Debra:    On a sidewalk in a parking lot
01:12:20 Marlene: Thank you 01:12:41 Deborah Stephens (she/her):     The lockers need power and data?
01:13:13 Jeff Karlsen:    Locker vendors may overpromise on the Alma integration :)
01:13:23 Kellye Cohn:     I hope not, Jeff :)
01:13:38 Luna De Xelajú:  what locker was that that allows students to scan their ID to unlock?
01:13:43 Alexandra Doyle Bauer — Library:  What if no student ID?
01:13:43 Kellye Cohn:     You can pick how many 01:13:49 Moore, Debra:    We got the smallest amount from Quadient and it is 29
01:14:03 Kellye Cohn:     With Dtech you can use whatever you want instead of ID, email, etc
01:14:21 Antonio López, SCC:     We're looking at Luxor at SCC.

01:14:34 Alexandra Doyle Bauer – Library: Thanks Kellye!
01:14:49 Alison Gurganus: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/CCLReopeningQ3
01:15:05 Lauren Saslow: We've used these masks before – they're called "the communicator" https://safenclear.com/product/the-communicator-surgical-mask-with-a-clear-window/
01:15:10 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): I have to ask, what is everybody doing or planning on doing about opening or not opening study rooms?
01:15:24 Jim Gordon: Do you limit total occupancy? Library access by appointment?
01:15:34 Lauren Saslow: @Jin – not opening study rooms
01:15:43 Ron Karln: I second the study room question
01:16:03 Will Breitbach: We are likely keeping ours closed too.
01:16:05 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): @Lauren, thank you, that is good to know. This was a hot topic at our reopening meeting
01:16:52 James Carrocino: no study rooms
01:16:53 Melanie Chu (she, her): Our study rooms are open for up to 2 students from the same household. We're not verifying that they live together, just the fact they're willing to be in an enclosed space. Masks required in the study rooms as all air is shared air in our library.
01:17:06 Laura Galván-Estrada: What supporting evidence are you using in your argument to keep study rooms unavailable?
01:17:16 Kellye Cohn: How are you enforcing occupation limits?
01:18:06 Jeff Karlsen: I have seen that some college libraries are opening study rooms for 1 person at a time.
01:18:11 Will Breitbach: @Kellye assuming some social distancing will be required. We will revisit if it is not. I don't want staff policing for compliance.
01:18:30 Lisa Brlas – Grossmont College (she/her/hers):   @Kellye we are enforcing our 30 seats per day via our study space reservations process
01:18:30 Kellye Cohn: Thanks @Will
01:18:51 Kellye Cohn: Thanks Lisa
01:19:01 Melanie Chu (she, her): @Kellye, we have removed most of our chairs for now, so it's simply not possible for groups to congregate
01:19:02 Lauren Saslow: @Laura – they are too small for social distancing and the ventilation in the rooms is really poor.
01:19:03 Ryan Edwards: Does anyone use virtual (Zoom) study rooms?
01:19:57 Marlene: What about the 3 ft number that's circulated?
01:20:05 Al Ybarra: @RyanEdwards … I do.
01:20:08 Hayley Garcia Ashby: How are you verifying that students are from the same household for the study rooms?
01:20:11 Moore, Debra: We are blocking off the seats we cannot see.
01:20:15 Megan Kinney – Library (she/her): I saw UC Berkeley library is doing online study hall: https://twitter.com/UCBerkeleyLib/status/1389271756536389634
01:20:16 James Carrocino: Our LRC uses Zooms for group and one on one tutoring

01:20:18 Heather Ott: We are opening study rooms for students who have back to back classes. first class is on campus and next class is virtual. They need a place to go on campus that is private.
01:20:41 Will Breitbach: @Hayley — Cathy is going to their how to confirm
01:20:49 Marlene: If our gates worked?! Sheesh
01:21:01 Cathy: Capacity limits are supposed to go away as of June 15 if things keep on the way they are.
01:21:06 Marlene: Shared learning spaces indeed will need strong collaboration
01:21:33 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: This is such an amazing discussion with great ideas!
01:22:20 Ryan Edwards: @Al Ybarra — how many virtual study rooms do you have and how often are they used?
01:22:27 Alison Gurganus: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/
CCLReopeningQ12
01:23:02 Ron Karln: students with disabilities?
01:24:08 Melanie Chu (she, her): We have set up appointments for library study hall using ESARS (scheduling), but the demand has been low enough that we're not close to reaching our 25% capacity. Tutoring remains online via Cranium Cafe for now as it's too high risk to have students collaborating closely.
01:24:11 Steve Hunt: @Ron, important issue.
01:24:26 Kellye Cohn: We have reference appointments set up in libcal with zoom and we will have some f2f, plus chat of course 01:24:40 Antonio Ng: Will the Padlet link work after today's webinar? It would be helpful to review the comments at a later time.
01:24:41 Al Ybarra: @RyanEdwards … I have almost 30 running 24/7.
01:24:44 Alexandra Doyle Bauer — Library: Can't hear you
01:24:58 Luna De Xelajú: Dual monitors idea sounds good 01:25:12 Al Ybarra: I call is the iLounge and I ,manage it via Canvas
01:25:17 Steve Hunt: Plexiglass wall around the ref desk sounds like a good idea
01:25:24 SJCC Language Arts: Virtual via Zoom and in person.
01:25:25 Al Ybarra: @RyanEdwards
01:26:27 Tom Stough: @Linda: our librarians/staff will get the books for students upstairs. Only downstairs open.
01:27:02 Lauren Saslow: Keeping stacks open
01:27:09 Moore, Debra: We are planning to page books
01:27:19 Melanie Chu (she, her): Stacks are wide open here
01:27:19 Cathy Tully: We are using Alma to place holds on books so circ staff and student workers can pull it right away and take them to the ref desk for the student and the librarian to review.
01:27:20 Steve Hunt: Our stacks books are so little used that we don't see access or use of them as an issue.
01:27:32 FUHRMADM@laccd.edu: Who is watching the desk closest tot
the door. If the librarian who is watching the reference desk.
01:27:34 Moore, Debra: Are people planning to quarantine books that are used in the library?

01:27:39 Evelyn Lord: Initially, staff would retrieve books. In later stage, we would open stacks for students to browse and retrieve
01:27:54 Jeff Karlsen: @Deb I'm hoping we can stop quarantining.
01:27:54 Marlene: We could use the browse feature in LSP to view other titles on the shelf and perhaps Google Books if students want to view TOC?
01:27:54 Antonio López, SCC: If you have staff to page books, like student workers, that would be a way to keep stacks closed.
01:28:04 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): We are keeping our stacks open. We anticipate low usage due to the fact that our ebooks databases (ProQuest Ebook Central and EBSCO eBooks) have become very popular 01:28:08 Melanie Chu (she, her): No, we are not quarantining materials. The CDC has determined that spread is highly unlikely from shared surfaces.
01:28:24 Lisa Brlas – Grossmont College (she/her/hers):   @Linda: We have an online form for library requests, and use QR codes to use at the desk so they can make their requests there. Circ will go upstairs to get the books, prep and check out the book and students can just pick up the books on their way out.
01:28:28 Ryan Edwards: @Al Ybarra – Wow! We only have 1 virtual study room and it's barely used: https://libguides.wlac.edu/virtualstudyrooms
01:28:30 Linda Parker: Thank you!
01:28:46 Marlene: Our Librarians and Lib Techs go to the shelves by practice. The issue going forward is how we'll distance as we're 'on the move'
01:28:59 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: Does this meeting go to 12:30?
01:29:04 Al Ybarra: @RyanEdward – usage varies, but they are available. :)
01:29:09 Alison Gurganus: yes
01:29:14 Mario Macias: walking students to the stacks is vital and we should encourage such proactiveness
01:29:15 Alison Gurganus: 12:30
01:29:36 Alison Gurganus: we will begin wrapping up around 12:20
01:29:48 Moore, Debra: Our dean is still being very cautious about quarantining
01:30:45 Linda Parker: Thank you, Lisa!
01:30:53 Lori Lisowski: Our county health officer (San Mateo) okayed all the libraries in the county to stop quarantining. It's made the public libraries in particular very happy.
01:31:00 Jeff Karlsen: @Deb it is important for everyone to be on the same page so it doesn't look like we are shortchanging health concerns. OCLC's REALM has not been helpful here. We need to keep consulting CDC guidance which, as Melanie has been pointing out, is quite clear now.
01:32:50 Will Breitbach: @Everyone – Deans are people to 01:32:57 Kellye Cohn: haha
01:34:50 Amy Brinkley: In Los Rios, faculty are able to opt-in to on-ground work; remote work beyond Fall is still being negotiated 01:34:53 Laura Galván-Estrada: At our campus, faculty have the option to stay remote.

01:34:53 Catt Wood: Yes, a lot of inequity across the college in all departments with faculty allowed flexibility and staff getting told they have to come back
01:35:02 Lauren Saslow: waiting for union negotiations
01:35:17 Steve Hunt: Yes, the transition to online went easier for faculty than it did for classified staff and student service areas like the Library
01:35:18 Kellye Cohn: Same
01:35:27 Danielle Kaprelian: F/T Librarians on campus with our classified, but we were not required to be.
01:35:34 Tom Stough: Our lib. staff has been in person this whole time. Lib faculty (me) on campus 1 day per week (my choice). I hope to be back in person ASAP.
01:35:42 Betty Rivera: Waiting for union negotiations
01:36:52 Cathy Tully: thank you.
01:37:05 Evelyn Lord: We get to see the spinner again!
01:37:22 Luna De Xelajú: @Cathy, sure!
01:37:28 Linda Parker: Is that an app?
01:37:56 Peter Vu: what #?
01:38:09 Amy Brinkley: @Peter 10
01:38:11 Brooke Ramos (she/her): Microsoft Bookings for appointments
01:38:18 Peter Vu: thank you!
01:38:55 Linda Parker: We're experimenting with Alma Appts (Cloud App), being able to book directly through Primo and making appts through Google Calendar.
01:38:58 Ryan Edwards: SpringShare LibCal: https://wlac.libcal.com/appointments/rba
01:39:09 Linda Parker: Awesome - thanks!
01:39:37 Kellye Cohn: We're using libcal for zoom ref appointments
01:40:16 Melanie Chu (she, her): eSARS for appointments: http://ltcc.edu/booking
01:40:56 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): Somebody else has probably asked this already but will these amazing Padlets be available after this meeting?
01:41:17 Ken Lin: Just don't call it sars that was another pandemic
01:41:27 Laura Galván-Estrada: Our college is using Qless so we are trying to figure out how to make it work of us at the library
01:41:34 Marlene: Yes Book It
01:41:34 Lauren Saslow: @Ken - that's what I keep thinking
01:41:45 Luna De Xelajú: same Q. from @Jin An-Dunning
01:41:58 Melanie Chu (she, her): Definitely, that's why renamed it just booking on our website :)
01:42:01 Sarah Bosler (she/her): It would be great if CCLC can have vendors present on these different tools for bookings tc
01:42:20 Marlene: We'd use LibCal if we can purchase additional seats 01:42:40 Sarah Bosler (she/her): What is LibSeats used for?
01:42:51 Amy Beadle: @Sarah good idea.

01:42:55 Frances Hui: @Sarah, great idea to have vendors present booking apps!
01:43:05 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): Agreed with @Amy and @Jonathan, this presentation should be used as a example of best uses of interactive/social technology
01:43:13 Sarah Bosler (she/her):   Same with the locker vendors
01:43:21 Michael Cuibus@Library: same question as @ Luna & Jin!
01:43:24 Amy Beadle: @Marlene, you should be able to purchase additional seats. Let me know how many you want.
01:44:31 Cathy: Lots of votes for retirement!
01:45:23 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): *an example :)
01:45:44 Will Breitbach: vaccine compliance is regional 01:45:50 Kellye Cohn: In California, at least :)
01:45:56 Catt Wood: It really depends on your community
01:46:07 Cathy Tully: @Catt Agreed
01:46:10 Erica Watson: I think all the remote services that we now have will be beneficial when we have to close because of wildfires.
01:46:17 Lauren Saslow: … or shut downs could become our new normal. At least we know what to do now.
01:46:20 Amy Beadle: @Will I hear banjo music
01:46:20 Will Breitbach: statewide approaching 50% with single dose. Jefferson may not ever reach that rate.
01:46:24 Amy Brinkley: @Erica -- yes absolutely
01:46:27 Greg Toleno: Some counties have triple the vaccine rate as others
01:46:51 Erica Watson: can you put the link. my padlet quit on me
01:47:30 SJCC Language Arts: College Emergency Response Team
01:48:43 Diana Tedone-Goldstone, Cañada College: District Emergency Planning Committee
01:49:14 Cathy Tully: https://padlet.com/AlisonGurganus/CCLReopeningQ2
01:49:35 Tom Stough: Our library committee discussed dean's plan, he got admin approval for it.
01:50:06 Jonathon Lee: @Alison, that's how we're doing it
01:50:57 Will Breitbach: We are waiting until mid June to finalize... waiting for the next major update from the governor.
01:51:18 Moore, Debra: Are you allowing non-college visitors into the library?
01:51:40 Cathy Tully: A library workgroup created a plan and it has been submitted to the dean, but we haven't heard back much of anything. It all depends on the outcome of contract negotiations with CSEA and Faculty.
01:51:41 Kellye Cohn: Every time we make a plan things change in the county or state and our admin wants something new and the cycle restarts
01:51:50 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: Good question, Debra. We have 'regulars' from the community who come in to use computers all the time.
01:51:50 Steve Hunt: @Debra, there are equity concerns about challenging visitors who "seem" to not be students.

01:51:51 Lisa Brlas — Grossmont College (she/her/hers):   @Debra, we are not allowing community users on campus at this time.
01:51:55 Melanie Chu (she, her): @Debra, for now, we are only open to currently-enrolled students
01:52:08 Ron Karln: non college visitors?
01:52:10 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): @Debra, we are limiting access to students, faculty/staff only, only students can checkout computers or study spaces (for now)
01:52:21 Marlene: Definitely key to understand our Staff be valued appropriately. The Library Manager has done good work keeping our Techs engaged working remotely so that the College respects their worth 01:52:24 Tom Stough: @Debra, also no comm users for us; faculty/staff/students only.
01:52:41 Steve Hunt: Yes, very useful information in this webinar!
01:52:43 Marlene: Good point about Community Users
01:52:55 Ron Karln: link for questions?
01:52:56 FUHRMADM@laccd.edu: And the chat .this is the most actvie one I've seen 01:52:58 Moore, Debra: @SteveI think it will be a college decision. If they go through the health screening, we will let them in.
01:53:00 Jude Baldwin: When we are open, community members are welcome but they need to go through the campus screening process
01:53:17 Sarah Bosler (she/her): Can you keep them up longer than the end of May?
01:53:28 Cathy Tully: Only current faculty, staff and students are allowed in the building in Fall. We hope.
01:53:32 Linda Parker: This has been such a great, engaging presentation. Thank you for putting this together!
01:53:44 Evelyn Lord: I am impressed by how the discussion and planning has evolved, and we've mostly done it on our own 01:53:49 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: Awesome discussion and webinar! Thank you so much for a great session.
01:54:01 Tom Stough: Indeed, great job, presenters!
01:54:11 Erica Watson: This is great. Thank you so much.
01:54:12 Sarah Bosler (she/her): please post those links in the chat, thanks.
01:54:14 Cynthia Ainsworth: So much useful information!!! Thanks to all!
01:54:23 Michelle (she, her) Ohnstad: Is that the folder that Brian Greene sent out?
01:54:24 Ryan Edwards: Thank you!
01:54:35 Melanie Chu (she, her): We felt it was better to reopen with more restrictions (no general public) and then slowly open more widely. Many community members are not willing to go thru the security process, in our experience (e.g., wearing masks, answering the app, temp check).
01:54:36 Tina Inzerilla: @Michelle, Yes
01:54:40 Ken Lin: Thank you this was great!
01:54:42 Peter Vu: Thank you, great session!

01:54:43 Seth Daugherty: Can you please add these links to the chat?
01:54:48 Arnold J. (he/him):   Thanks for this shared experience and webinar! Great job!
01:54:50 Seth Daugherty: Great session — thanks!
01:54:59 Trevor Passage: thank you , everyone
01:55:02 Kellye Cohn: Thank you!
01:55:07 Ron Karln: email the link
01:55:30 SJCC Language Arts: Thank you for this informational session. A wealth of information was shared and will help us.
01:55:31 Alison Gurganus: https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1L54egx4XHoa52DQAA5BCIJvteToodlGfdz4B4AcZfuI/edit?usp=sharing 01:55:33 Venice Lombardo: Really appreciate being able to hear from everyone on these issues. Thanks!
01:55:34 Alexandra Doyle Bauer — Library: Thank you all!
01:55:50 Cathy Tully: We are requesting student worker funding through COVID funds. These would be monitoring appointments and the entrance.
01:55:50 Melissa Molek: This presentation was fantastic! Thank you!
01:55:50 Mo Menlove: we've just been doing federal work study
01:55:57 Terri Smith: we are currently rewriting our SW job description
01:56:02 Catt Wood: No student worker budget at all yet
01:56:23 Peter Vu: here at @SJCC we were told by our dean that no student workers are allowed in the library when re-open in the Fall
01:56:24 Kellye Cohn: I believe we're using some covid funds
01:56:25 Danielle Kaprelian: We are desperate for student workers (and have a budget) and no one is applying this summer. Really unusual.
01:56:25 Terri Smith: to include monitoring, cleaning, greeting,
01:56:49 Terri Smith: @Danielle, yes we are concerned there will be no SW available to hire
01:56:54 Michael Cuibus@Library: Very informative exchange of ideas! Thank you ladies & gentlemen!
01:56:58 Peter Vu: are not allowed at sjcc
01:56:58 Luna De Xelajú: Thanks!
01:57:01 Evelyn Lord: Great job, Tina and Alison!
01:57:31 Romelia Salinas: Thank you Alison and Tina! Wonderful job!
01:57:50 Cathy: I think our job description already mentions cleaning as a task for students as well as the ever-useful "other duties as required"
01:57:53 Cathy Tully: We are having Library/Circulation student workers per normal (District and WorkStudy), and another job description for students who will be monitoring appointments and cleaning because of COVID (COVID funding)
01:57:56 Tina Gutierrez: Thank you valuable information
01:57:57 Julian Prentice: This was great, thank you so much!
01:58:05 Lisa Brlas — Grossmont College (she/her/hers):   Thank you!
01:58:05 Susie Kopecky: Thank you so much!!
01:58:07 Valeria Estrada: Thank you for organizing this session. I love the collaborative spirit of library folks. We learn so much and succeed when we get together and share our brains!

01:58:11 Danielle Kaprelian: Thank you!
01:58:12 Cathy Tully: Thank you.
01:58:12 Lauren Saslow: Thank you for organizing this.
01:58:13 Jin An-Dunning (They/Them/Their): This was amazing, thank you!
01:58:13 Melanie Chu (she, her):   Thanks all
01:58:15 Kellye Cohn: Thank you!!
01:58:15 Karen Tercho (she/her):   Thanks CCL that was great!
01:58:16 Rebecca Parker: Thank you!
01:58:20 Seth Daugherty: Thanks – this was great!
01:58:21 Norman Buchwald: Thank you
01:58:21 Hayley Garcia Ashby: Thank you so much! Engaging and helpful workshop.
01:58:21 Jude Baldwin: Thank you!
01:58:21 Miranda: thank you
