

Student Voices Wanted!

➤ Earn $20 Amazon Cards AND help your fellow students.

The California Community Colleges Technology Center (CCCTC) is looking for Student Beta Testers to provide guidance and feedback for online applications and student support systems. There will be two types of testing: surveys and beta testing.

We want to know:

- What works and what does not work
- How we can improve the online college application to make it faster and easier
- What parts of the college application are the hardest for students

Student Beta Testers will receive a $20 Amazon Incentive Card for completing surveys. Surveys are done online and are easy to complete. Software beta testing is also available 1-2 times a year, with the chance to earn two Amazon cards per beta test.

➤ Interested? Contact Rick Snodgrass at the CCCTC:

Text (530) 636-1523 or email : rsnodgrass@ccctechcenter.org.

➤ Be sure to include

1. Your name
2. The college(s) you are attending
3. Your college email address